users who navigate and consult these should know that, in relation to the processing of their personal data as users, the processing connected to the web services of these websites takes place first of all at the internet service providers' facilities used on each occasion to implement and make the website available and also at the headquarters of the joint Data Controllers. The data processed by the appointed personnel and by the designated data processors, including for any maintenance and administration operation of the processing systems, may concern:

2.1. Navigation and technically indispensable data

During their normal operation, the computer systems and software procedures used to operate this website acquire some personal data whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols. This information is not collected to be associated with identified data subjects, but by their very nature could, through processing and association with data held by third parties, allow users to be identified. This category of data includes the IP addresses or domain names of the computers employed by users who connect to the website, the URI (Uniform Resource Identifier) addresses of the requested resources, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the numeric code indicating the status of the response given by the server (success, error, etc.) and other parameters relating to the operating system and to the user's IT environment. These data are used only to obtain anonymous statistical information on the use of the website and to check its correct functioning and are deleted immediately after processing. The data could be used to ascertain responsibility in case of hypothetical computer crimes against the website.

2.2. Data provided voluntarily by the user (via forms and emails)

Data relating to identified or identifiable persons may also be processed, based on additional information communicated by the data subject: for example, by filling in data collection forms (forms); or with the optional, explicit and voluntary sending of electronic mail to the addresses indicated on this website, which implies the subsequent acquisition of the sender's address, necessary to respond to requests, as well as of any other personal data included in the communication.

The personal data voluntarily provided through registration forms or online registrations for participation in events, such as workshops, forums, conferences, even in online mode (e.g. webinars) are used for the organisational purposes of the event, including the sending of useful communications for participation in the event itself as well as the sending of any material of informative, didactic and functional content to support the event itself. Follow-up communications may be provided and, based on the legitimate interest of the Data Controller, the data subject may receive invitations or reports of similar events.

When the event is organised in collaboration and partnership with other Bodies, the personal data of the data subject may be shared for the purposes described above.

For events that require the online payment of the service, without prejudice to the provisions of this paragraph, please also refer to the following paragraph "E-Commerce Data and for online payments".

2.3.E-commerce data and for online payments

The data processed for managing store orders (on the websites where there is one) and for managing online payments include records, addresses, purchase lists, reports and notes. Credit card data are not directly acquired and processed as they are managed directly by the payment system (e.g. Gestpay Banca Sella, Paypal, etc.). Unless opposed, the purchaser is registered in both the association and the commercial newsletters (see the dedicated paragraphs), from which he/she can subsequently unsubscribe.

2.4.Registration data for Image Library (Slow Food photo archive)

The portal imagelibrary.slowfood.it is the Slow Food photographic archive. Anyone can consult the images inserted and made available. Subject to the applicant's registration and the check and evaluation of the requests, the images can be downloaded in high resolution, without watermark and with a licence for use. The personal data of registered users (name, surname, e-mail, username, password, company) are used to access the system, to manage orders and to archive historical information concerning the access and downloads of photographic documents and videos, in order also to verify the correctness of their use.

By prior consent, the registered user is registered in the association newsletter (see the specific paragraph "Recipients of the association newsletter"), from which he/she can subsequently unsubscribe.

2.5.Profiling data

The profiling data relating to the habits or consumption choices of the person concerned are not acquired directly. However, it is possible that such information should be acquired by independent or other subjects through links or by incorporating third-party elements. See the following section on Cookies.

2.6.Cookies

Like others, these websites save cookies on the user's computer browser in order to transmit personal information and to enhance his/her experience. In fact, cookies are small text strings which the websites visited by the user send to his/her terminal (usually to the browser), where they are stored, sometimes for a long time, to be then re-transmitted to the same websites at the next visit.

As explained below, it is possible to choose whether and which cookies to accept, bearing in mind that refusing their use may affect the ability to perform certain transactions on the website or the accuracy and adequacy of some proposed customised content or the ability to recognise the user from one visit to the next. If no choice is made in this regard, the default settings will be applied and all cookies will be activated: however, this decision can be notified or changed at any time.

In particular, so-called session cookies are used, which are not stored permanently on the user's computer and disappear when the browser is closed and whose use is strictly limited to the transmission of session identifiers (consisting of random numbers generated by the server) required to allow the safe and efficient browsing of the website and which avoid the use of other IT techniques which may potentially damage users' browsing privacy and do not allow acquiring the user's personal identification data.

Analytics cookies are used, in order to help understand how visitors interact with the website's contents, by collecting information (geographical and web origin, technology used, language, entry pages, pages visited, length of visits etc.) and generating website usage statistics without the personal identification of individual visitors. All these should be considered technical cookies for which, since consent is not required, the opt-out mechanism applies. Technical cookies are not transmitted to third parties as they are necessary or useful for the website to function; therefore they are processed only by persons qualified as processors or system administrators.

Each website may specifically use different cookies: for details see the dedicated "Cookie policy" page of each website which is accessible therein.

Some people prefer not to enable cookies and for this reason almost all browsers offer the option of managing them in order to respect users' preferences. Some browsers allow setting rules to manage cookies for each individual website, an option which offers a more precise control over privacy. This means that cookies on all websites can be disabled, except on those which are trusted.

Another function available on some browsers is the private browsing or incognito mode, so that all cookies created in this mode are deleted after closing.

2.7.Purposes of data processing, transmission and dissemination

The personal data collected are only used to carry out the services requested and are transmitted to third parties only if this is necessary for that purpose. Services include: consultation and mere use of the sites and their content; registration and access to reserved areas; donations and payments; subscription and receipt of the newsletter; reports; contact request; etc.

In any case, no data deriving from web services is disseminated or published without the prior consent of the data subject except in cases where the legitimate interest of the controller is applicable

Finally, please note that in some cases (not falling within ordinary management) the Public Authorities may request information, including of a personal nature, which the Data Controller must answer.

2.8.Optional supply of data

Apart from what has been specified for navigation and technically indispensable data, the user is free to provide personal data for specific requests concerning products and/or services. Failure to provide certain data, deemed essential, may make it impossible to obtain what is requested.

2.10. Leader Area

The Leader area and all the web back-office areas of the online data processing assets must be considered confidential, accessible only after authentication, for the exclusive use of authorised and appointed parties. Unauthorised access to these areas or continuing to stay in these will be prosecuted according to the law (Penal Code art. 615-ter) and constitute an irregularity prerequisite for the administrative responsibility (L. Decree 231/2001 art. 24-bis) of the entity with which the offender operates.

Authorised users should be aware that for these areas technical cookies (session, security, navigation, etc.) are used in the user's browser, without the possibility of exclusion, in order that this may operate correctly. The processing, mainly automated, of the authorised subjects' data (authentication credentials, access logs and related attempts, operation logs, etc.) falls within the Data Controller's management of the information system, including with a view to cybersecurity, and is regulated and illustrated in detail in the internal Slow Food IT Regulation. Data are temporarily stored, are not disseminated and are possibly accessible, if necessary, by the technical staff (developers and systems engineers), unless required for further legitimate purposes provided for by the Code on the protection of personal data. The information (texts, videos and images) that the user uploads to the private area are protected by encryption and authentication systems and are accessible only to authorised users, i.e. to the interested parties and/or to the intermediaries involved. This information is not subject to dissemination operations.

3. Participants in surveys, evaluations or campaign signatories

Through physical presidia (with pollsters or volunteers) or through digital platforms and tools (Google forms, Survey Monkey, Change.org, Quick tap survey, etc. managed by third parties, autonomous data controllers) Slow Food collects information (answers to questions which are then treated in aggregate and anonymous form) on topics of interest to its mission or asks for signatures for petitions for awareness campaigns on laws, measures, etc. In these cases, people (adults) are required to give their consent to participate in the initiative and in order to be further informed about its development (see the specific paragraph "Thematic or project content, campaigns or fund-raising"). By prior consent, the reporter is registered in the association newsletter (see the specific paragraph "Newsletter recipients", from which he/she can subsequently unsubscribe.

3.1. Special cases

Among the platforms and web services of third parties that collect personal data as indicated above, we wish to highlight the following, addressed to specific data subjects, for whom specific in-depth information is prepared in the following sections:

Web / form service	Type of interested parties

4. Slow Food Foundation participants

Slow Food has assumed, as of November 28, 2022, the new legal status of a participatory foundation to which individuals, public or private legal entities, organizations, Local Groups and Territorial Branches that share Slow Food's purposes and contribute to its life and the realization of its goals can join.

"Participants" are defined as natural persons who join Slow Food directly or those who participate as of right as legal representatives or contact persons of a legal entity or already active members at the time of the transition to the new legal status (see section 4.1). Members of a national directorate may also become participants by right, according to agreements between Slow Food and the national directorate itself, except for their right not to join (see section 4.2).

Participation has a definite duration but can be extended as many times as desired by renewing membership.

The data of direct participants are collected directly from the data subjects who freely provide them; the data of de jure participants, are provided by another participating legal entity to which they are linked, based on general regulations or bilateral agreements. Participants' data concern: First Name, Last Name, Date of Birth, Gender, Address, Telephone, E-mail; some are essential; others are optional; they are used to maintain contact directly between Slow Food and its participants through the sending of service and renewal communications and the participatory information and dissemination newsletter, without the need for further consent, based on the specific information notice (see paragraph 9), without prejudice to the right to object to the communications at any time.

Participants' data are retained indefinitely as long as participation is renewed; sending of the participatory information and disclosure newsletter is discontinued in case of opposition, however, without removal of the participant's data.

4.1.Members of the former International Slow Food Association with membership valid as of 11/28/2022

Since Slow Food changed its nature during 2022, transforming from an International Association to a Participatory Foundation, effective 11/28/2022 all active members at that time became participants by right in the Slow Food Foundation until their membership expires. Upon expiration they will be able to renew their membership

4.2.Membership in other national associations / organisations operating in the territory as national departments

The communication of personal data to all organisational levels of the association (local, regional, supra-regional, national, international) is regulated by specific agreements and tasks which regulate:

- breadth and detail of data, depending on the activities envisaged in the agreement;
- ways and timing of data transfer;
- obligations on the part of the national directorate, particularly to ensure the lawfulness of the data transfer and to inform data subjects about the transfer of their data to Slow Food.

So event, members of a national department can also become participants in their own right, according to agreements between Slow Food and the national department itself. It is up to the national department to ensure data transfer compliance and to inform its members about the transfer of their data to Slow Food. In any case, the member of the national department, may decide, by objecting, not to become a participant of the Foundation.

4.3. Institutional positions of the Slow Food Foundation.

The data of those who hold institutional positions of Slow Food, national departments are processed according to Chapter 25 "Institutional and Political Positions within Slow Food."

The data of former participants are used for communication purposes, in the absence of explicit consent and explicit objection, up to 36 months after discontinuation of participation; after that period or in case of objection they are kept up to 40 months after interruption of participation, but with limited processing; after that further period, the data are anonymized within two months or deleted.

5. Slow Food Italia membership

The Slow Food member, a natural person, is affiliated at territorial level, in the reference Conduct; his/her data are shared in co-ownership both by the Regional Association of reference, and by the National Association Slow Food Italy Aps by virtue of the National Statute of Slow Food Italy, for the existing legal relationships; moreover, by virtue of the co-ownership agreement referred to in the introduction, Slow Food Italy Aps shares such data with the other related legal entities. Each organisational level only processes data pertaining to its own level (territorial, regional, national, international).

In the case of membership of legal persons, the data of the contact persons and/or legal representatives are collected and processed as those of the members of natural persons. In the event of an alternation in the role, the legal entity member is required to notify the Association that provides for the updating of the data, without further processing of the previous ones.

The data of those who hold institutional positions within the Slow Food Italia APS Network are processed in accordance with the provisions of chapter 25 "People who hold institutional and political positions within the Association".

5.1. Institutional positions of Slow Food Italia.

The data of those who hold institutional positions in the Slow Food Italy Association, regional associations and convivia and any other articulations at the territorial or local level are processed in accordance with Chapter 25, "Institutional and Political Positions within Slow Food."

5.2. Former members

In the case of termination of membership in the Slow Food Italia association, the legitimate interest of the Data Controller in reaching the data subject with the association newsletter and similar communications remains, without prejudice to the data subject's right to object. The data of former members are used for communication purposes, in the absence of explicit consent and explicit opposition, until 36 months after the expiration of the non-renewed membership; after this period or in case of opposition they are kept until 40 months after the expiration of the non-renewed membership, but with limited processing; after this further period, the data are anonymized within two months.

5.3. Person who gives away a membership card, person who receives a membership card

The personal data of those who give away the membership card are processed for the purposes related to the purchase and, with their consent, for the sending of the Slow Food membership newsletter if they do not already receive it as members.

If requested by the data subject, the personal data will be used to send the notification of the issuing of the membership card in the name of the beneficiary of the gift membership card, or of non-confirmation by the same. The data of the recipient of the membership are processed on the basis of the legitimate interest of the data controller for the purposes of sending the invitation to the registration of the data subject through which they can confirm the membership to the Association. The personal data of the recipient of the membership card will be stored after the invitation is sent for 6 months. If the recipient does not register within this deadline, their personal data will be deleted and the cost incurred can no longer be refunded.

From the moment of issuing the membership card, the data of the recipient, who has become a Slow Food member, will be processed as stated in the chapter "Members from all over the world".

6. Community members

Persona data are collected:

- directly and freely from the data subjects when filling in the application (paper or online) to join the Community
- indirectly by the spokesperson of the Community: a) who collected these through the paper or digital based founding declaration, collecting individual and contact data directly and freely from the members; b) who undertakes to transfer the updated and correct data to the Data Controller;

The expressed will to be part of the Community, made in the founding declaration and the subsequent membership, envisages the active involvement of the member in the community and the legitimate interest of the controller to send newsletters of an associative nature.

The identification data and e-mail collected are processed:

- to complete the membership in the Community
- to keep the member of the Community up to date through communications (possibly also via smartphone app, if the phone number was provided during the application process) and newsletters of an associative or informative nature, of the Slow Food Movement, including the organisational forms through which the movement operates on a national and international scale and to suggest that members of the Community should be involved in campaigns, petitions, and activities based on the right of initiative by European citizens

In addition to the recipients indicated in the introductory paragraphs, the data may be transmitted to the spokespersons of the Community to which the data subject adheres (the spokespersons act as autonomous controllers).

The data of people belonging to communities outside the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA) will be shared with these "bodies", referents and spokespersons also outside Italy.

7. Donors

The data required for donations are freely provided by the data subject: some of these (Name, Surname, E-mail) are indispensable; others are optional (Country, Notes, Slow Food Membership, Project of Interest, etc.). Consent to processing is not required for the purpose related to donation (accounting records, etc.). Consent IS required to send the newsletter of the association. Consent is required to publish data in the official list of donors. The payment system envisages communicating some data to the bank providing the service.

8. Anyone who makes a payment

In some cases (for example, to make a donation or to renew membership in Slow Food or to give a gift or renew a Slow Food Italy membership card) it may be necessary to make a payment, including online on Slow Food websites. In these cases, it is expected that certain data will be communicated to the electronic money service provider or the bank providing the service that enables the payment.

9. Newsletter recipients

The newsletter that arrives by e-mail is managed by Mailup and is divided into various channels with different topics and contents, some related to the association, others of a commercial/promotional type. The insertion of the recipient's contact takes place either for the legitimate interest of Slow Food or based on the consent of the data subject.

In the event that the communications are not of interest to the recipient, it is possible to avoid further communications related to the specific channel or to others, by clicking on the appropriate unsubscribe link contained in each message, or by writing to the contact details (see paragraph 1.4), exercising the right to unsubscribe from the newsletter. The recipient can, therefore, decide to unsubscribe in full or only from some channels.

Registration to the various types of channel takes place according to the following policies.

9.1. Content related to the association

The Slow Food association newsletter (distinguished on the basis of the language and the country of registration) is a periodic communication of an exclusively associative nature, which disseminates the activities of the movement and with a cultural and educational nature for all members of the association and other categories of persons interested in various capacities on the basis of the legitimate interest of the Data Controller (by way of example: host families, producers of presidium products, reporters of Ark of Taste products, etc.). The links which may be contained in the communication could refer to websites of supporters and partners of the association and of its projects, should this be useful to analyse in depth the themes within the context of specific associative projects.

The e-mail contacts used to send the periodic newsletter are obtained:

- directly from the membership and from all other situations in which the legitimate interest applies (e.g. host families, community members, volunteers, etc.); the legitimate interest in sending the membership newsletter is maintained even when the data subject interrupts the membership relationship from which this legitimate interest initially arose, without prejudice to the possibility of opposing the continuation of the sending of communications;

- as well as from voluntary registrations by the recipient, from whom explicit consent is always requested (e.g. written in the case of paper forms, digital in the case of apps, games and online forms, oral in the case of acquiring business cards);
- possibly from "consensual" lists supplied by third parties, where conditions are met

9.2. Renewal Notices

The newsletter can also be used to send communications about the expiry of the membership or to propose the renewal of membership or a donation. We deem legitimate the interest in sending such communications to those who, already members or already donors, are subscribed to at least one newsletter channel of the association or, although they are no longer subscribed to any channel, have not opposed, after receiving a confirmation message, the receipt of a single proposal within 90 days from the expiry of the membership of the Association or the anniversary of the donation.

9.3. Thematic or project content, campaigns or fund-raising

The e-mail contacts used for sending thematic and project, campaign or fundraising newsletters derive directly from adhering to the project and from voluntary registrations by the recipient to whom a confirmation request is always submitted.

The project newsletters are periodic communications to disseminate the activities, evolutions, updates of the project itself and of specific themes. By maintaining an exclusively associative (therefore NOT commercial) connotation, they contribute to the dissemination of the culture of the movement and they analyse in depth particular and specific themes. The links which may be contained in the communication could refer to websites of supporters and partners of the association and of its projects, should this be useful to analyse in depth the themes within the context of specific associative projects.

9.4. Commercial, promotional and sales-oriented content and communications

The e-mail contacts used for sending periodic newsletters, other than those of associations and/or projects, containing commercial, promotional and sales-oriented communications (by Slow Food Promotion, Slow Food Publisher and Wine Bank) come from voluntary registrations by the recipient to whom a request for confirmation is always submitted, as well as from information acquired in a context of sale of products or services of the Controller or in any case similar, for legitimate interest. The newsletter includes sending information, commercial communications, promotional and advertising material. It is hereby underlined that contacts are not acquired from public directories of subscribers.

10. Recipients of WhatsApp communications or instant messaging via smartphone app

The tool of instant messaging via smartphone app (by way of example WhatsApp, Telegram, etc.) can be used, for sending renewal communications (see paragraph 9.2), welcome messages, limited warning messages relating to events or initiatives of interest to the member or Community member, where the telephone number has been communicated during membership or the application to join the Community. The legal basis for such processing is the legitimate interest of the Data Controller, except for the right to object by writing to the contact details (see paragraph 1.4).

11. Product reporters of the Arca del Gusto (Ark of Taste), Slow Food Presidia

The data requested are freely provided by the data subject: some of these (Name, Telephone, E-mail) are indispensable; others are optional. The publication of the descriptive sheet of the reported product is bound to the consent to the processing of the data which also includes the reception of the association newsletter on the basis of the legitimate interest of the data controller (see specific paragraph) from which it is possible to unsubscribe at any time.

Specific consent is required in order to publish the identification data (name and surname) of the reporting person.

12. Hosts of Slow Food Experience to publish on Airbnb

The data acquired from the experience form application are used to record and evaluate the application for the selection of the experiences recommended by Slow Food. Submitting the candidacy by filling in the form does not guarantee the publication of the experience on the Airbnb platform which will take place only when the selection by Slow Food and Airbnb is passed. Therefore, the data will be brought to the attention of Airbnb who will process these as an independent controller, according to their own policies. Submitting the form provides consent both to the registration of data and to their communication to Airbnb, in the USA, which belongs to the privacy shield mechanism, in order to jointly assess the experience proposed by the Host.

In order to monitor the progress of the experiences and their compliance with the selection criteria, Airbnb shares with Slow Food the personal data, contact information and details of the Slow Food experiences uploaded onto the Airbnb platform. By uploading the experience on the Airbnb platform, the host accepts that Slow Food can contact him/her in relation to the experience.

By prior consent, the host is registered for the association newsletter.

13. Host families

The data of the host families are acquired through the application form for the "Hospitality" project to welcome the Terra Madre delegates. The data are used for

- ascertain that there are the necessary requirements to accept the membership
- organise the hospitality service also through volunteers appropriately appointed by the Data Controller.

The data of the host families (limited to e-mail address and telephone number) may be notified to the hosted delegate to create a contact before the event.

The data are stored until their removal is requested by the data subject and are used to send hospitality requests for subsequent editions.

Unless opposed, the reference person for each family is registered for the association newsletter.

14. Volunteers for events

Applications for participation as volunteers at Slow Food events are assessed after verifying the personal data entered (personal, identification data, contact details, membership of associations, language skills, previous experience, etc.) in order to:

- ascertain the necessary requirements such as the compatibility between the skills of the volunteer and the operational needs of the event; verify membership of the Slow Food association or of a different association with which Slow Food has agreements in place, which is a binding requirement in order to accept the application. Should the interested party not belong to any association, the data controller reserves the right to propose membership to the Association, in order to be able to evaluate the application for participation as a volunteer presented by the data subject.
- organise services.

The data are stored until their removal is requested by the data subject and the contact details are used to send participation requests as volunteers for further events organised by Slow Food.

Unless opposed, the volunteer is registered for the association newsletter.

15. Exhibitors, speakers, cooks, guests at fair events

The personal data collected are processed to carry out the activities strictly necessary to ensure the regular performance of the contractual relationship as well as of the services offered and enjoyed.

The contact details (e-mail address) of the guests of the exhibition (speakers, cooks, observers, etc.), subject to explicit consent, are used to send the association newsletter (see specific paragraph "Newsletter recipients" from which it is possible to subsequently unsubscribe).

Exhibitors' data (e-mail, telephone), subject to explicit consent are used for:

- Sending newsletters and communications of a promotional, commercial or sales-oriented nature, as well as for market researches carried out by post, telephone and also automated call systems, e-mail, fax, SMS or MMS by the joint controllers
- sending promotional and commercial communications by official Suppliers, Sponsors and Partners of the Exhibition
- sending the Slow Food association newsletter.

The transmission outside of the personal data collected for the declared purposes may only occur if such communication is necessary and / or mandatory in order to take part in the event and to correctly establish or continue the contractual relationship. For this purpose, they are also communicated to providers of services, systems and equipment which the controller has appropriately appointed as external processors.

Some suppliers of the data controller may provide services to the exhibitor and to the guests (cooks, speakers, observers) independently and directly. In these cases, for organisational reasons, the data controller requests that the supplier, by contractual agreement, transfers the information relating to the services which the exhibitor has purchased directly from them.

The data may be disclosed to public and private entities, natural and / or legal persons, with sales and / or IT management and / or payment system purposes, including external parties (collaborators, volunteers, sponsors, partners) who carry out specific tasks on behalf of the data controller. The data may also be disseminated, but only in aggregate, anonymous form and for statistical purposes.

Exclusively in relation to common personal data of the data subjects:

- they can be communicated to companies and publishers in order to publish the data in question;
- they are published in the official catalogue of the relevant reference event;
- they are published on the website of the relevant reference event.

In particular, the people of this category may also be the subject of video / photographic shoots during the event they take part in: see paragraph “Anyone in relation to their own photographic and video images”.

16. Delegates

The completion of the application for participation as a Slow Food delegate, generally during the organised events, does not guarantee participation in the event itself. Nominations are evaluated by the event's organising committee in order to ascertain the necessary requirements (participation in Slow Food projects or campaigns, membership of Slow Food Convivia or Communities, the situation regarding Visas for travel to Italy), or information useful for organising the delegate's visit to the event (identification data and information concerning the candidate, language, hospitality and travel information).

The assessment of the requirements takes place at the discretion of the event's organising committee which can deny the candidate's participation as a delegate.

The data of the rejected applications are subsequently cancelled after having communicated the result of the candidacy to the data subject, with the exception of the identification and contact data required by the organiser to evaluate the applications for participation also from the point of view of the historical situation of the results. The delegates' data are kept until their removal is requested by the data subject and the contact details are used to send requests for participation as delegates to further events organised by Slow Food.

Unless opposed, the delegate is registered for the association newsletter (if he/she does not already receive it as a partner or member of the Community)

17. Anyone in relation to their own photographic and video images

As part of its associative, educational, institutional and promotional activities, including events organised by Slow Food of international relevance or of local importance, photographic images and videos concerning anyone may be collected.

The intent is, generally, to create a report which gives an account of the projects and of the activities carried out therein or of the fair event and not in particular to portray the individual persons (except in specific cases, such as for example the portraits of the cooks, the faces of Terra Madre delegates or of the Slow Food Presidia producers). Should audio / video filming and photographs of subjects in the foreground be carried out, consent and right to use will be requested.

Including but not limited to, photographic images and videos can be collected

- at the sites of the producers of the projects (processing plants, agricultural fields, farms, etc.)
- during planned activities, supported by funded projects (for example: Central Europe, Essedra, Food is Culture, etc.)

- at newspapers or third-party websites which take part in the event
- at "social media", such as social networks, on the occasion of and limited to the spaces used by trade fairs.
- at exhibitors, tasting classrooms and laboratories, educational spaces and conference rooms, within the events. For the protection of people, information boards are placed near the areas involved, warning of the presence of official photographers and video-makers.

These images may be used for:

- implementing publications relating to Slow Food projects or events;
- documenting the activities of Slow Food in the project reports;
- issuing press releases;
- creating promotional material;
- publications on social media and Slow Food websites;
- photographic exhibitions;
- archiving in imagedlibrary.slowfood.it/ (Slow Food online photo archive);
- the institutional communication of the activities carried out during the event by means of dissemination or publication of audio / video footage and photographs in magazines, websites, social pages, etc., should this not concern shooting with subjects in the foreground or images which are detrimental to the dignity of the persons filmed, paying due care to the more vulnerable subjects (e.g. minors);
- security reasons for people and property (as a residual purpose)

Images and videos are processed as part of the normal institutional activity and according to legitimate interests. Anyone not wishing to be filmed is invited to leave the areas where shoots will take place.

18. Manufacturers, businesses and representatives of Slow Food projects

- The personal data of the subjects involved in the projects and of the representatives of the Slow Food network, which make its development possible in the areas under their jurisdiction, are collected and processed:
- For the performance of the activities necessary to ensure the smooth performance of the relationship and projects, as well as the services offered and used, including through persons in charge of processing and data processors, on the basis of the agreement/pact to which the data subject has subscribed;

19. Chefs and restaurateurs who are members of the Slow Food Chefs Alliance project

The data acquired from the application form is used to register, evaluate and select the candidates. The submission of the application for membership does not ensure participation in the Alleanza dei Cuochi project, which will take place only if the selection by Slow Food is passed, by signing the declaration of adhesion.

Joining the project entails joining the Slow Food association as a member (see paragraph 4 Registered Members worldwide)

The transmission of personal data to all organisational levels of the association (local, regional, supra-regional, national, international) is a necessary requirement to complete the process of joining the Slow Food association pursuant to the statutory documents, as well as, in the case of the cooks of the Alliance, essential in order to guarantee the good operation and effectiveness of the project itself.
